International Career Seminar

Guidelines

Purpose and Goals

1. Engage with those who wish to work on the world stage.
2. Think about your roles in local and global society.
3. Consider how to work in society with motivation.
4. Find motivation to actively pursue your career.

Introduction

The objective of the International Career Education Program is to provide a global perspective for people who wish to pursue international careers. For this purpose, “globalization” and “glocalization” are deployed as key concepts to reflect the increasing permeation of global issues throughout local societies. Participants will join working groups that will develop and discuss themes related to international careers. Each working group will summarize its action plan in a presentation given on the last day. The main purpose of the seminar is to consider both local and global issues, exchange and communicate ideas and engage with others for the purpose of developing skills and competencies related to international careers.

Workbook

This workbook will be used throughout the seminar and preparation sessions. Note keywords, questions and comments regarding working groups, discussions, presentations and pre-reading. Listen carefully to the lecturers’ presentations as well as comments from and discussions with other working group members. This will allow you to participate actively, preserve important information and reflect on what you have learned.

Presentation

Use the presentation guidelines, slide examples to help you develop and prepare your presentation. There are several materials to guide you and provide models for creating and organizing your presentations.

Evaluation

In order to earn credits for this seminar, you need to complete and submit the workbook by the deadline after the end of the course. Your evaluation will be based on your participation, your presentation and the contents of the workbook.

Work Group Preparation

Use the spaces below to prepare for the seminar. Take notes from the required readings.

Questions

Your Goals/Objectives and Career Plans

As the International Career Seminar starts, describe your goals/objectives and career plans. On the second and the last day of the seminar, note the extent to which you feel you achieved these goals/objectives, explain why, and consider how your thinking changed over the course of the International Career Seminar.

ON THE FIRST DAY	ON THE SECOND DAY	ON THE LAST DAY
Describe your goals and objectives for the International Career Seminar in as much detail as possible. 1. 2. 3. 4. 5.	Circle the extent to which you achieved your goals/objectives at the end of the second day. Achieved very well \longrightarrow No achievement < 5 4 3 2 1 > Describe in detail what you achieved and what you did not achieve on the second day. State your reasons.	Circle the extent to which you achieved your goals/objectives. Achieved very well \longrightarrow No achievement < 5 4 3 2 1 > Describe in detail what you achieved and what you did not achieve. State your reasons.
Write down your future goals and describe a concrete path toward those goals. Be as detailed as possible.	Describe how you influenced your future goals throughout DAY 2.	Describe the future goals you have in mind now and chart a path toward the goals. Did your goals change from the first day? Explain.

Keynote Worksheet

Presentation is a form of communication that requires feedback and participation in order to be successful. Listen carefully to the presenter. Take notes regarding important points and keywords. Make a list of comments you have as well as any questions. It is important for both the speaker and the audience to engage with the subject of the presentation through questions. Asking questions is also a sign of respect and appreciation.

Presentation Planning Materials

Use the following pages to plan and design your presentation. Design your visual message while considering its purpose in supporting your presentation and its relation to your verbal message (See pages 13-15).

Consider the following questions:

- What is the purpose of each image, chart or graph? What will you say about them?
- Do they contribute to or distract from your overall message?
- The presentation should include the following; 1) Opening, 2) Purpose/Goal, 3) Background, 4) Main Idea and 5) Conclusion/Final remark.

Final Checking/Revision

Go over and revise your presentation. Make sure the slides flow logically and support your overall message visually and verbally. Can the audience easily follow or understand your support and examples? Consider the following questions:

- Is each image absolutely necessary? Are they simple and easy to understand?
- Do the visual messages support my goal? Are they relevant to my verbal message?
- Is my conclusion clear, logical and memorable?
- The presentation should include the following; 1) Opening, 2) Purpose/Goal, 3) Background, 4) Main Idea and 5) Conclusion/Final remark.
